As a Managing Director at Mohr Partners, Elizabeth Loving advises and oversees over 10 million square feet of corporate real estate portfolios across North America. She also serves as Senior Advisor for Mohr Capital, a Dallas-based commercial real estate investment firm that acquires, develops and value-enhances corporate office, industrial and retail properties.

With a focus on both office and industrial sectors, Elizabeth has worked across a variety of industries, offering clients a comprehensive approach to their real estate needs. In addition to tenant representation, Elizabeth brings expertise in build-to-suits, acquisitions, sale-leasebacks and dispositions, providing clients with strategic guidance on monetizing their real estate portfolios. Known for developing tailored real estate strategies, Elizabeth ensures that each client's unique business goals are aligned with their leasing, acquisition or disposition decisions.

Having completed over $487 million in transactions during her 10-year career, Elizabeth's in-depth market knowledge and strategic insight make her a trusted partner in the real estate decision-making process.
