Teresa Krause is an Administrative Specialist for Mohr Partners. She also is the coordinator for the Minority Business Enterprise business applications.

Before joining Mohr Partners, Teresa worked in corporate human resources for various companies including Deutsche Bank, Safety Kleen and Trinity Industries. She had many experiences as a Human Resources Director including employee relations investigations, overseeing the facilities team, planning corporate events, writing employee handbooks and completing many government forms. After retiring from human resources, she was an assistant for a new home builder as well as real estate agents, giving her experience in the real estate business.

Her passion outside of work is serving as a board member of the nonprofit, Generations Hope, which supports families who live in a local long term hotel by providing food and much needed items to the children. You can catch her on Friday evenings playing games with the kids or chatting with the adults who live there.
