EDUCATION

- University of California, Los Angeles
Bachelor of Arts, Political Science

Michael Leamy is an Associate for Mohr Partners, Inc in the Northern California San Francisco office. His primary responsibility is to improve real estate portfolio efficiencies for his clients through strategic partnerships and vertical-specific industries. Michael is skilled in data analysis, problem-solving, written and verbal communication, and collaborating with the client to provide customized solutions.

Prior to Mohr Partners, Michael worked in Sales for Wyndham Destinations where he worked on presentations for potential new owners and guests, worked on a limited timeline, and had a 100% retention rate of new clientele.

Before that, Michael worked for Tesla as both an Operation Associate and an Operations Coordinator in both the Fremont and Palo Alto, CA locations. As a coordinator, he managed and processed all incoming requests, had daily interaction with employees for all departments, set meetings, adhered to strict deadlines, dealt with oversight from other team members, and even implemented and spearheaded automated a business card process for all of Tesla.

Michael attended The University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) completing his Bachelor of Arts in Political Science.
