Rob Pipkin serves as Managing Principal in the Dallas office of Mohr Partners, Inc. With over 34 years of experience, Rob represents and consults corporate, national and local clients in all aspects of their real estate needs.

Rob's career at Mohr Partners Inc. began in 1998, as he transitioned to the corporate service side of the commercial real estate business. Over the course of 23 years, he has represented a wide range of clients to build their national and international portfolios.

Mr. Pipkin began his commercial real estate career working on behalf of building owners. He has represented landlords ranging from the Prudential Realty Group, one of the nation's leading owner/developers of commercial real estate to Granite Properties, one of Dallas' most aggressive entrepreneurial real estate firms. With these groups, Pipkin covered millions of square feet of real estate requirements and consummating over 950 lease transactions.

During this tenure, Rob honed his real estate expertise by initiating every phase of the real estate process, including contract negotiation, space planning, construction, administration, and management.
