Brett Connor works as a Director at Mohr Partners, Inc., based in Atlanta. Drawing on his background as an operations executive and supply chain leader, he brings innovative solutions to clients, offers fresh and interesting perspectives, and identifies real estate options for owners, trusts and developers.

With two decades of experience in supply chain management, Brett specializes in strategic planning, driving digital advancements in supply chains, operational planning, establishing multi-location distribution networks across the United States and aligning corporate goals with practical strategies.

He is currently the Managing Partner and Owner of CHAINWISE, a consultancy focused on transforming supply chains in physical, operational and digital aspects within organizations. Brett is excited to strengthen the collaboration between CHAINWISE and Mohr Partners while supporting clients with their real estate needs.

Previously, Brett held the role of Principal Advisory - Supply Chain, Logistics & Transportation for the Retail/CPG Sector at Amazon Web Services. In this position, he was responsible for developing and implementing digital supply chain solutions for external customers. Before that, Brett was the Director of Business Operations and Supply Chain at RaceTrac Petroleum. During his tenure at RaceTrac, he provided strategic guidance on operational aspects to drive the company's supply chain growth and managed a national supply chain subsidiary company with 75 employees.

Brett earned a Master of Business Administration from Georgia State University and a Bachelor of Business Administration from Georgia Southern University. He lives in Atlanta with his wife and three children.
